

Types of Critical Illness Insurance

Basic Critical Illness Insurance:

Critical Illness Insurance policy offers you a lump-sum benefit and valuable assistance services to help you and your family cope with the financial and non-financial challenges of cancer, heart attack or stroke.

Term Critical Illness Insurance:

Term Critical Illness Insurance is the ideal choice for both temporary and life-time needs of individuals and families. It gives you assurance that your entire family will be taken care of if you suffer from a critical illness covered in your policy.

Permanent Critical Illness Insurance:

Permanent Critical Illness Insurance provides financial protection if you are faced with a critical illness covered in your plan. The policy's benefits and level premiums are guaranteed.

Return of Premium:

Some Critical Illness Insurance policies offer a choice of Return of Premium riders (benefit/option) designed to return some or all of the eligible premium paid for the policy to the owner if you do not suffer a critical illness.

Group:

Stewart Financial Services represents multiple companies which provide Group Critical Illness Insurance for businesses ranging from sole-proprietors through to large companies. Offering creative solutions which give the protection you and your employees need while providing flexible plans within your budget.

Contact Stewart Financial Services to find out more information regarding Critical Illness Insurance and the protection needed for you, your family and your business.